My Pencil Won’t Write No More

Bo Carter - 1931

Intro

Verse 1
Now listen here folks, there's one thing sure
My old pencil won't write no more
Because the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 2
I lay down at my bed, just to write a line
I could feel my old pencil, droopin' fallin’ all the time
Because the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 3
I gets outta my bed, down on the floor
I was worryin' 'bout my old pencil won't write no more
Because the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 4
I met a hot mama, I want to love her so bad
I lost all the lead in my, pencil I had
Now the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 5
I hugged and I kissed her, all last night
It was nothin' doin', my old pencil wouldn't write
Because the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 6
You sure can tell, when a man's pencil is wrong
His mama's always, shiftin' from home
Because the lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more

Verse 7 & Outro
Now listen here man, you ought to know
Can't write for that woman, you have to let her go
Because your lead's all gone, oh the lead's all gone
Oh the lead's all gone, the pencil won't write no more,
More, ma more, more, more…
